

Arvados - Bug #5666

[Workbench] Job "failed" label and "Cancel" button need more distinction

Description
- For a running job, the 'cancel' button looks too much like the 'failed' button. I have to look at it twice to realize that the big red button on my running job is there in case I want to cancel the job, not because the job has failed. Make it a different color, orange, differentiate it from the 'failed' state to alleviate confusion.
